Uniform Violation Consequences

Any student reporting to school without the appropriate uniform will not be permitted to remain in their classroom. The student will be sent to the office. Contact home will be made for the parent to bring the student the proper uniform. If the parent cannot be contacted, or refuses to bring a uniform for their child, the student will be marked with an UNLAWFUL absence for the day.

The homeroom teacher will write a violation for the student each day the student is out of uniform or any time a student's shirt is not tucked in. A copy of that violation will be kept by the teacher, a second copy will be sent to the office and the third copy will be sent home with the child.

Consequence for uniform violation:

- Students refusing to comply with the dress code will receive a phone call home.
- After 3 uniform violations, the student will be referred to the lead teacher.
- After the 4th uniform violation, the student will be sent to the lead teacher and/or office and assigned detention after school.
